Phonics homework 3rd May

Red words are what we call words the children cannot sound out as they do not follow the phonics language patterns. Their letters make uncommon sounds. The only way to learn these words is from memory, so they need lots of practise! Please spend some time going over the new red words you will receive each week. Can you say it, read it and write it?

I	the	my	you	said