

Living Eggs* Chick Welfare

Here at Living Eggs* we are committed to providing an ethical Life Cycle Hatching Programme. All our eggs are pathogen free and come from a Government Accredited Hatchery, where the parent stock are all fully vaccinated. The hatchery is held to strict welfare standards and has adopted the European Code Efabar, which is a Code of Good Practices.

The reason for sourcing the eggs from this Hatchery is to ensure a safe experience for all the Children and Adults taking part in the Living Eggs* Chick Hatching Programme. These eggs are free of germs and safe to hatch in all environments. This means no exposure to Salmonella, E.coli or Avian Flu which cannot be guaranteed should you source your eggs from Local Farms or Hatcheries that do not adhere to these strict welfare guidelines. This Company is one of the largest egg suppliers in the United Kingdom and has branches all over the world.

We provide everything needed for the safe hatching and care of the Living Eggs* chicks, from our bespoke equipment to food and also support whilst the chicks are hatching and then grown on. The support materials provided with each Programme are fully comprehensive and we have direct contact with a Local Vet, who is on call to support each Area Representative.

Each Area Representative has their own relationships with Local Farmers/ Allotment owners who then go on to raise all chicks that are placed with Living Eggs*. We also believe it is essential to support all our Customers that choose to keep and raise their own chicks at the completion of the programme as we believe this is an important part of Chick Welfare and caring for animals in the community. Our chicks would never be sent to intensive rearing farms not only for ethical reasons but for commercial reasons as they would never be accepted as the chicks have been raised in Schools and Care Homes and would never meet the strict criteria needed.
